

Brand positioning

How Market Access Partners talks, looks and behaves. Rebuilt 18 September 2026 from the agreed positioning; replaces the 6 September draft.

The one line

New Zealand is the cleanest, greenest premium provenance on the planet. For India's rising premium consumer that purity is the luxury. We get independent New Zealand producers, and the people who make them, into India first.

The register: accessible premium, exclusive and limited

We sit between the imported "flex" brands India already pours (The Macallan, Yamazaki, Dom Pérignon) and the domestic staples. Rarer than France, cleaner than anywhere, barely one percent of the world's wine. Scarcity, purity and story is the formula that made Macallan the flex and Amrut a collector's item; it is the same formula for a family winery, an apiary and a distillery from New Zealand.

Accessible means a mid tier price ladder (US$15 to 30 bottles are the volume and loyalty sweet spot) with a small allocation above it. Exclusive and limited means every listing is a parcel, every parcel has a story and an end date, and no producer is sold below its floor.

How each category is framed

| Category                   | The line                                                                                                                                                                       | Never say                                                 |
|----------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------|
| Wine                       | France sells heritage. New Zealand sells what comes next. The wine from the place in every honeymoon brochure.                                                                 | Cheap, value, bargain. Never position under Australia.    |
| Mānuka honey               | The first honey concession India has ever granted, for New Zealand alone. Wellness and Diwali gifting; the certified jar is the health forward luxury gift.                    | Medical claims beyond the certification. "Cure", "treat". |
| Whisky and bespoke spirits | Scotland and Japan are whisky's France: the past hundred years. New Zealand is cleaner, greener, more bespoke: the next hundred. Anchor age with Willowbank 21 to 30 year old. | "Like Scotch". Never price under Scotch or Japanese.      |
| Travel                     | Provenance, not drinking. New Zealand by the people who make it. Work with us, we work with you. No partner, no visit.                                                         | Tour, bus, package, tasting tour, pub crawl.              |

| Category                  | The line                                                                                             | Never say                                                               |
|---------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Polo               | New Zealand ponies, made for the Indian season. A standing supply, not a one off shipment.           | Horse dealer, broker, cheap Argentine alternative.                      |
| Investor residence | Residence by investment, a country not a passport. We introduce, collect and host. We do not advise. | "Golden passport", "government approved fund", any view on eligibility. |

Voice

Plain, confident, specific. Numbers before adjectives. Short sentences, one idea each. We name the producer, the place and the person. We say "we" for Market Access Partners and "you" for the reader. No exclamation marks, no dashes in prose (restructure the sentence instead), no jargon, no tagline (the "Educating Empowering and Enabling" line belongs to Agile Strategy, not to MAP). Macrons are used on Māori words: mānuka, tōtara, Whakatāne, Rānui.

Look

|  Saffron | #D98324 (deep #B26A15)      | The word Access, rules, eyebrows, primary buttons, one highlight per page |
|  Vine    | #3D5C4A                     | Section headings, table headers, the confirming action                    |
|  Ivory   | #F5F1E6 (paper #FBF9F2)     | Backgrounds, cards, pull quotes                                           |
|  Mist    | #9AA1AD (body grey #4A5160) | Secondary text, captions                                                  |

Type. Fjalla One for headings and big numbers, Libre Franklin for everything else, on the web and in every document. Arial only where a system cannot load them. Wordmark. "Market ACCESS Partners" in capitals, Access in saffron, with a short saffron rule beneath. No logo mark yet; three directions are in the Trusted brand codes brief. Photography. Lead with the land, not the bottle: vines against the Southern Alps, mist on a Central Otago hillside, a beehive in flowering mānuka. Unretouched, natural light, real people.

Behaviour

Independent producers only, to begin. Success fees only, never retainers. We say what we are (an introducer, a host, a route to market) and what we are not (an immigration adviser, a financial adviser, a fund). Five percent of profits to an Indian charity and five percent to a New Zealand one, at the directors' discretion, and we say so.
